A Joshua AND White Light Course

By Gary Temple Bodley & Christy Levy

DAY TWELVE - UNIMAGINABLE (WHITE LIGHT)

Surprised and delighted; daily. Relaxed and content; usually.
Curious and optimistic; frequently. Passionate and excited; often.
Joyful and grateful; always.

This is an Unimaginable Life. You see, it does not matter what experiences or conditions are present in the moment. If this is how you feel then, what do the experiences truly mean? The only reason you want anything is because you think it will make you feel something when you have it. But does it matter what experience comes if what we just described is how you always feel?

We promise you, the experience does not matter. It is possible to experience anything in joy, and we mean anything. We understand that from your physical perspective this sounds impossible, but it is possible. The journey you are embarking on now will take you there if you allow it to. There is nothing more that you want above feeling good. If you can remember that you came for the feelings, you might be able to consider an approach to life that is centered around creating only the perspectives that allow you to feel good most of the time. If you can do this, you will raise your perspective to a level at which the unimaginable is a daily experience.

We would like to give you some examples of an unimaginable life:

Example 1:

Four friends, on a 4th of July Saturday, are walking in NYC. They have no destination, just an intention to enjoy the beautiful weather, the city and each other. They find themselves in Times Square, so they decide to sit down to rest at a table in the middle of everything. They suddenly become aware that they are the only people there, with not another soul in sight. They marvel at this astonishing fact and the inconceivable idea that this could be. How is this happening?

The digital billboards are flashing all around them, the weather is clear, it's Saturday and it's July 4th. They are stunned, delighted, mesmerized and elated. This is not an experience that was imagined, intended or even desired. Not one of them had ever had the idea to be in Times Square without anyone else in sight. This would be seemingly impossible to attain. It could not be arranged and no amount of money could have paid for this experience. Four friends together in Times Square without anyone in sight has never occurred in history, until that moment, nor will it ever occur again. Yet it was delivered to them, for them, and only them.

Example 2:

An educated, professional woman, who considers herself to be an average working mom, living a typical American life, suddenly develops incredible psychic powers. These are abilities that, until this moment, she thought others were fabricating for money or fame. She begins to see clear visions of past, present, and future events with great accuracy. She can speak easily to those that have transitioned from Earth to the nonphysical realm as if they are right beside her. Soon, she realizes that she can see exactly what a friend is seeing in real time, even though they are hundreds of miles apart. She can find lost items just by thinking of them. She has become one of the greatest channelers of all time, fully able to carry on conversations with many entities, nonphysical and physical, including her own inner self.

She did not intend or desire any of this. These things had never even occurred to her, because she did not think these types of abilities actually existed. Yet, it was all delivered to her in a beautiful, elegant way, down to the detail of providing loving and supportive friends to encourage and assist her.

Both of these stories are difficult to believe for most of you. But that is the way it is with an unimaginable life. It cannot BE imagined, so it is extremely hard to believe. You must experience it for yourself. What we want you to know is that your life has always been unimaginable. You just cannot see it from your current perspective. As you raise your perspective consistently in all areas of your life, you will recognize it more and more. As you do, more can be delivered to you and you will experience the surprise and delight felt by the subject of our short stories. Yes, both of these are experiences were enjoyed by the same person, in a very short period of time, along with countless others that could be described, but would never be believed.

This is the way you all intended to experience your reality. It is your birthright to experience everything you desire without limit. It is here for each and everyone of you and you are worthy of it. You came for the exploration, for the discovery, and for every delicious feeling. You came for the Unimaginable Life. There are no limits placed upon you whatsoever. All limitations are self-imposed. You have the power to remove your limitations and as soon as you do, you may expect your own vivid and unimaginable experiences to flow elegantly into your own personal reality.

*We know you and we love you,
White Light*
